

TO THE LIGHT

Violet Harlot's Front Man Will Everett has been a busy person. Hard at work while Violet Harlot has been on a hiatus, Will has been busy working on his song writing skills, music and producing his own songs.

As any musician would know wrestling with self doubt is one of the hardest things about releasing a new song but Will took his leap of faith and it is paying off.

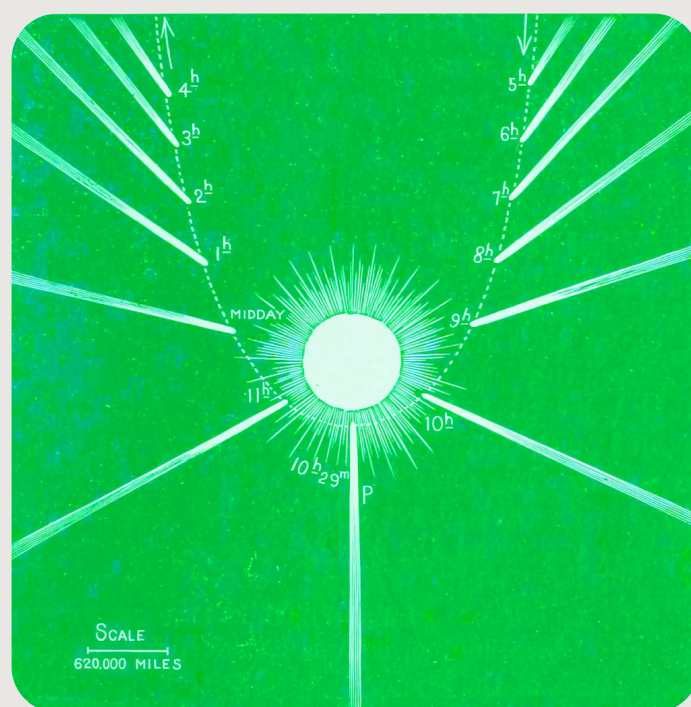

"To The Light" has a classic rock feel with inspirations of Prog-rock with the energy of punk rock.

Will has made comment on how he "got the idea of travelling through space with a lover from the iconic Black Sabbath track Planet caravan, but wanted to write something energetic and ridiculous instead. I've always loved the Alien films, Star Wars, Dragon Ball Z and other sci-fi stories. I adored the idea of using music as a medium to write my own adventures, like Cygnus X-1 by Rush and Mars for the rich by King Gizz."

If you're looking for an 80's style track this is where you will find it. High energy, low baseline and a solo that makes you feel like flying through space.

The one thing it make me picture is playing a classic 80's pinball machine in a pub. It just has a nostalgic feel to it.

To The Light will be on listening platforms from 28/02/2025.
